Dear Sirs,

We have only received your letter and list of books desired, but as several members of our firm are still serving under the colours, we have not yet resumed our numismatic business.

We shall be very pleased to receive any further lists which you may publish and, as soon as we can, do our best to procure you some of the works mentioned.

We are, Dear Sirs,

Yours very truly

Dear Sirs:

We have just received your catalogue for the third part of the collection of Ruchat, and I beg that you will accept my thanks for it. This is a very handsome publication which we are very glad to have for our library, and I shall call it to the attention of our members who may be interested.

We have received your catalogue for the first part but we have never received a copy of Part II. May I ask that you kindly send me this at your convenience in order that our files may be kept complete.

Thanking you in anticipation, I am

Very truly yours,

Secretary
